

Tangible Acupuncture for Internal Medicine 2021-2022

Overview of Course

This is a post graduate level program designed for practitioners focused on clinical practice. Participants will learn how to clearly understand a variety of internal medical conditions from the traditional perspective of disharmony of Yin, Yang, Qi and Blood, as well as learn how to tangibly and effectively rebalance them to obtain fast and obvious results with their patients through acupuncture, bodywork and other physical treatment methods.

Course Structure

This is a hybrid in person & online program featuring 70 hours of practical training over 5 modules in Hamburg, Germany and over 30 hours of distance learning videos to be watched at home.

In addition, this course does require previous attendance either in person or virtually of the following two courses: Tangible Qi in the Clinic and Manipulating Qi with Acupuncture (previously known as Nine Essential Needling Techniques) as pre-requisites.

Course Curriculum

This in depth training program features 5 in person weekend modules and a minimum average of 6 online viewing hours to be completed prior to the start of each module.

- Module 01: Tonifying the Upright Qi, Dispersing Pernicious Qi, Regulating the Channels
- Module 02: The Eight Functions of Qi in the Clinic
- Module 03: Doors & Pathways of Qi
- Module 04: Awakening the Source–Incurable Conditions & Hospice Care
- Module 05: Implementing & Modifying Treatment Protocols

Course Deliverables

Participants will learn to implement a variety of needling methods and bodywork techniques to tangibly and effectively treat patients across a wide variety of internal medical conditions. They will also learn to reframe their understanding of the conditions from current Chinese medicine theory as taught in schools to the more effective traditional perspective which made this medicine so effective in the past. While herbal knowledge is not required to attend this course, herbs will be mentioned throughout to benefit those who do use them in the clinic. Upon completion, participants should expect to be confident clinicians able to confidently treat chronic and acute internal medicine conditions.

Dramatically increase clinical results by returning to a more traditional style of acupuncture! In this 5 module in person/online program focused on internal medical conditions, Andrew Nugent-Head shares what he learned over 28 years in China from the last practitioners who still practiced Chinese medicine as our medical ancestors did. Tangible Acupuncture for Internal Medicine features clear explanations of Chinese medical theory for the conditions covered, demonstrations of the protocols necessary to be successful in treating them, and extensive guided partnered practice time to ensure a thorough understanding of the techniques presented. As in all of Andrew's courses, Tangible Acupuncture for Internal Medicine is designed for clinically focused practitioners seeking greater skill and are willing to do the work during the modules and at home to build better efficacy when treating difficult conditions.
